French Apologized for Attack on Ammunition Tower

WARNING TO ENTENTE POWERS

Troops of Allied Governments Seek ing Refuge on Greek Soil Will

Berlin, Nov. 16.-French and Greek troops have clashed at Saloniki. The French apologized, saying that their attack on a Greek ammunition tower was a mistake.

London, Nov. 16-An intimation of the Greek government that any Entente allied troops seeking refuge in Greek territory will be disarmed has been the cause of considerable anxlety to the Entente powers, and consequently Field Marshal Earl Kitchner's Near East visit gains added importnnec.

According to belated dispatches regived from Athens, Greece bases her decision on international law, while the Entente Ministers contend that the right accorded troops to enter the country through Saloniki permits them to retire by the same route. should it become necessary for them to do so. The Ministers are demand ing that Greece define unequivocally the attitude she will observe should such an eventuality present itself. Besides the claims to hospitality which the Entente Allies declare they have on Greece in view of the ther Premier Venizelos's invitation to them to send a force to Saloniki to en able Greece to Juliil her treaty obligations to Serbia, which, however,

CLASH Greece repudiated, Earl Kitchner or the Entente Ministers are likely to draw the attention of King Co. tine and his government to the fact was guranteed by France, RussiaET that the constitutionalism of Greece was guaranteed by France, Russia and Great Britain, and that it was only obtained after Great Britain had ceded the Ionian Islands to that country and the three powers had agreed to contribute 4,000 pounds ($20,000) yearly for the personal use of the king.

This, it is contended, binds the Greek people to the Entente Allies, and should King Constantine overrule the constitution, which the followers of M. Venizelos insist he did his retention of the throne of Greece his strength. depends on the continuance of friend ly neutrality toward the Entente pow-

The Germans, on the other hand, are declared to be assuring the Greek government that Greece would be protected against the Entente Allies should that country support the Central Powers, and that as evidence of the ability of Austria and Germany to do this they are dispatching submarines to the Mediterranean which could be used against any fleet threat ening Greek ports.

London, Tuesday, Nov. 16.-In the fight for Serbla, the Austro-Germans and Bulgarians claim repeated successes, but it is apparent that their progress is slow, the Serbians now having reached the mountain fortresses in Central Serbia, and the roads or want of roads, make it difficult for the invaders to bring up their heavy artillery, with which they always back up their infantry. However, announcement is made by the Berlin War Office of the capture of 8,500 Serbiana and 12 guns, most of them by Eulgarians.

In the south there is little or change. In the district northwest of Uskub the Serbians still hold the Katchanik defile, barring the Bulgarians from the great plain of Kosovo, while to the southeast of Uskub a desperate struggle has been taking place for the possession of Tetevo. which has changed hands severa times. The Bulgarians recaptured Tetevo yesterday, but a report receiv ed at the Serbian Legation last night says the Serbians again have occur pled the town. Tetevo, which is about twenty-five miles from Uskub, is of great importance, in that it forms the point of the wedge driven between the main Serbian army and the forces operating in the south. The Bulgarians are reported in great force southwest of Velez, where they hope to check the French adturce on that town and in the direct tion of the Babuna Paes, farther west. Here they are attempting to break through between the Serbian and French forces, which have now established connections, however, to ttack Prilep. British troops and stores continue o be landed at Saloniki, taking to the utmost the resources of the port | dents 2nd, team, and railroad.

FUR TRAPPER SURPRISED

Sandisfield Man Discovers a Big Black Snake in a Steel Trap.

John Weeks of Sandisfield, Mass., is a hunter and trapper. In the latter capacity he sets traps for muskrat, rabbit, skunk, mink, and many other four-footed animals. Theorett cally a trap catches an animal by the foot, and quadrupeds lend themselves to this treatment better than bipeds, because they have more feet. A centipede would be the ideal game except for its lack of size and fur. In view of this fact, John Weeks was rather surprised Friday morning when he made the rounds of his traps to find in one of them an animal without feet-a black snake 45 1-2 in ches long and three inches around. Mr. Weeks is temperate. This is proved by the detailed data regarding the captive's size. That the reptile was an ordinary black snake lends further proof. In any other case the snake would have been cerise or alice blue. It was a spirited encounter when Mr. Weeks began the slaughter. but the snake was under a disadvan tage and was dispatched. The recent warm weather is thought to nave been responsible for the snake's unseasonable appearance and untimely

PLOT TO BLOW UP SHIPS

To Destroy Vessels Carrying Munitions to Allies

READY TO RECEIVE SENTENCE

Asks No Immunity and Makes Confession of His Own

Volition.

New York, Nov. 16-Robert Fay, selfstyled lieutenant in the German army and by his own confession head of a gang of bomb-makers that sought to destroy munition-laden ships sailing from New York to the allies, told the story of his life yesterday to Assistant United States District Attorney Knox. Fay talked freely, fully and voluntarily for five hours without interruption. What he said was not made public, but at the conclusion of the session Mr. Knox announced that all Fay wanted to do now was to plead guilty to the government's charges against him and go to jail. P. J. McDonald, a lawyer appointed by the court to represent Fay, sought to see his client in Mr. Knox's office, but failing, served on Mr. Knox notice of his intent to demur the indictment. Fay read the demurrer while the lawyer waited outside and, accord ing to Mr. Knox, said he didn't want to demur to the indictment or to do anything else than to plead guilty and start at once to serve his sentence.

Fay's long talk with Mr. Knox was made on his own solicitation and with out promise of immunity or leniency. The statement which the prisoner dic tated carried him back to Germany, almost to the date of his birth, covered the high lights of his service in verified by the information that the court so decided. government had collected from other sources. "There is no doubt," Mr. Marshall said: "That his name is Fay and that he served in the German army. As to the rest, we don't know. His statement differs somewhat from his previous story, but admits his guilt of the charges against him." What Fay told Mr. Knox yesterday leads back to a source which already has been traced to another case under investigation by th government. according to Roger Wood, an assistant in Mr. Marshall's office. Mr. Wood has prepared most of the cases in the passport frauds and also prepared the government's case against Karl Buenz and other officials of the Hamburg-American line, indicted on a charge of conspiracy and to be placed ontrial this week.

"Five cases of the sort lead back to four sources," said Mr. Wood. "These are the Fay case, the Buenz case and the three passport fraud caser. In none of the cases did the actual defendants know what the defendants in the other cases were doing. The four sources, however, directing these five cases were very close togeth er-very. It is my belief that these four men all reported to said took their orders from a fitch man who was the director of all the trouble of this sort in the United States."

"If you could prove this." Mr. Wood was asked, "would you or could you prosecute this fifth man?" "All I can say to that," he replied is that under the law we cannot prosecute any diplomatic representat ive of a foreign country."

When Fay ended his long statement yesterday he was taken back to the Tombs, to remain there till today, when he will be questioned by Mr. Knox. The statement of yesterday was made without interruption by questioning or prompting. It contained many leads, it is said, about which the government's lawyers want information.

Both Mr. Marshall and Mr. Knox declined to say if any one else were implicated in Pay's new statement. Fay has been somewhat of a puzzle to them both and it was intimated that this statement would not be accepted without full verification. As Taylor said: "Time has not altered it stands now, however, it is unlikely that there will be other arrests in the Pills and I willingly endorse them alleged plot, at least until Fay's latest confession is corroborated, if then

Destruction of Liner Termed "Unparalleled Atrocity"

NOTE TO ALL NEUTRAL NATIONS

Asserts No Warning-Was Given and that Submarine Shelled Passengers in Life Boats.

Washington, Nov. 16-Secretary Lansing personally received yesterday from Macchi di Cellere, the Italian embassador, a communication addressed by Italy to all neutral nations denouncing as "an unparalleled atrocity" the sinking of the Italian liner Ancona with scores of neutrals and other noncombatants abourd.

The statement recites the circumstances of the attack, charging that "without even a blank shot" of warning from the attacking submarine the vessel was shelled, and that the killing their time to rebuilding the war-torn and wounding of passengers continued alter the ship had stopped. No reference is made to the nationality of the submariae. As yet Embassador Penfield has not been instructed to call at the Vienna foreign office for information, but probably will be so ins rueted soon, in view of the issuance of a statement by the Austro-Hungarian admiralty describing the

The text of the communication foilows, as given in a dispatch from Washington: -"The government of the United States is doubtless aware of the particulars reported by the press in connection with the outrage perpetrated by the enemy on Italian shipping on November 7. More than once destruc tion of Italian merchantmen had taken place under circumstances which permitted no other explanation that there was behind the procedure a ruthless purpose to use brutish force against private property of innocent persons. Noncombatant passengers and crews already have been the victims of these methods but never has there been an instance of such unparalleled atrocity as in the case of the sinking of the Ancona. The unarmed liner, enroute to New York, was steaming westward between the coasts of Sardinia and Tunis, carrying passengers and cargo destined for America. "It was out of the question that the vessel could have been suspected of carrying arms or contraband or persons in the service of any of the belligerents. In fact none of the circumstances alleged in other cases in an attempt to justify actions described by their authors as a necessity of war or as a reprisal were present in the case of the Ancona. "There are principles that no state ought to diregard and no private individual could violate with impunity. Respect for the lives of persons in no way participants in a war is among these fundamental rules of humanity and international law. This rule imposes on belligorents the strict obliga tion to do all in their power in every circumstance to protect the lives of ich passengers. "Without any warning whatsoever, vithout even a blank shot, without observing any of the formalities accompanying the right of search the ubmarine encountered by the Anconn in the aforementlened circumstances, opened fire on the unarmed passenger liner, ruthlessly shelling not only the wireless apparatus, sides and decks of the ship while she was at a stop, but even the lifeboats in which the terrorized passengers were seeking refuge. Many of the passenars were killed outright or wounded. Some who approached the submarine in the hope of rescue were driven off with jeers. As a result of this inhuman procedure more than 200 meu. women and children lost their lives. "The royal government regards it as a duty to denounce solemnly to all nations the circumstances described above. Their sentiments of justice and humanity will cause them without doubt to judge, as it desrves, the conduct of an enemy which is obvious ly contrary to the dictates of civilizaon and the recognized principles of international law."
